Girlfriend In A Coma

Author's Notes:
Kinda evil.

"There were times when I could have murdered her..."

I feel awkwardly evil (yet oddly satisfied) as I scribble those lines in my pocketbook.

But I'm not a bad person. Of course I'd never think of doing something like this, let alone wish for it to happen. Those words just came to me; such thoughts come to the desperate sometimes, because, well - I don't need to explain...

Everybody knows them, but nobody really wants them to come true.

So I add, "But you know I would hate anything to happen to her," as they continue snogging on the backseat.
